

Spring Break Team and Individual Expectations

The following rules are put in place for all of our protection. Following these rules will make the trip more enjoyable and keep everyone safe. I am not assuming that you are going to get into any trouble, but I do want to communicate the importance of what can be done in order to keep trouble away from you. This trip has to be important to everyone in order for all of you to have fun and get some training in at the same time. I must ask that each room contain at least one senior or junior.

1. Everyone MUST remember to follow EVERYTHING as outlined in the district code of conduct!
2. Know where your partner is while traveling!
3. While in Florida, you must travel with groups of 3 to 5!
4. If you leave to go shopping on the Disney grounds, you must follow the group travel rules, and carry a communicator with you!
5. No boys will be allowed to enter your rooms! There is no negotiating this issue!
6. You will refuse any request to go to any boy's room! There is no negotiating this issue! (If there is a boy that wants to chat with you. He can do so in the lobby of our hotel in plain sight or in the hallway of our hotel if he is in our hotel. The group travel rules applies if he wants to go somewhere with you.)
7. Everyone must check-in with the coach or chaperone on the communicator by 9:30pm. There will also be a 10:00 – 10:15 visual room check. If you are not in your room at that time, you will be required to be in your room one-hour earlier the next night.
8. The captains are expected to assist with the guidance of the team and the individual behavior.
9. You will leave all linen on the bed when departing the hotel for home. The coaches and chaperones will do a room check prior to checkout in order to inspect for damage(s).
10. Please! Keep your valuables (i.e. money, jewelry, etc) in a safe place. Do not leave them in the open when you are out of your rooms.
11. Remember that you are sharing a room with three other team members. Please! Be considerate and respectful. We must make this trip a success for everyone!
12. Any violation of rules (1, 5, 6, and 7) will result with you calling your parents and explaining what you did, in-room supervision for the rest of the trip, and added suspension from the team events when we return home. I have to be firm on this. Your safety is my greatest concern, and I will not bend if it will endanger any of you.

I _____ clearly understand the above-mentioned expectations and will abide by them without reservation. These expectations are in the best interest of my health and safety while I am away from home. I am fully aware of the consequences that I will face if I choose to violate any of the expectations.

Group Guidelines

We are pleased to be at your service during your stay. We wish you and your group a great time; enjoy your stay at the Howard Johnson Maingate Resort! Please take a moment to familiarize yourself with these important hotel guidelines;

1. Housekeeping

- Beds will not be made if articles are left on them.
- Do not leave suitcases or clothing on the bed.
- No stickers on doors, mirrors or windows.

2. Safety

- Do not leave anything valuable in the room. Safety Deposit boxes are in the rooms and can be arranged by the chaperones.
- Keep door locked at all times.
- Do not open your door for strangers. The Front Desk will verify if an employee is at the door.
- Tampering with fire alarms is a felony and will prosecute under Florida Law.

3. Front Desk

- One key per person or two keys per room, if you lose a key, the chaperone will contact the desk for additional keys.
- Telephones are restricted for in-house calls only as per the chaperone's instruction.
- There is an 11:00pm to 6:00am curfew for all students out of consideration to our other guests.
- The pool closes at 11:00pm.
- The group is liable for any rooms occupied after 11:00am on day of departure unless otherwise authorized by the sales department.

4. Loss of Revenue or Damages incurred by the Hotel

- A security guard will be hired at the group's expense if noise complaints are not rectified immediately.
- Any refunds to guests complaining about excessive noise will be charged to your group.
- On the day of departure of your group, the chaperones and a manager on duty must inspect all rooms. Damages will be charged at cost to your group and expected to be paid prior to departure.

The coaches and chaperone will be responsible to inform the group of these guidelines and for the conduct of the group. Continuous complaints may result in possible eviction.
